MISSISSIPPI RIVER COMMISSION REPORT SENT TO CONGRESS.

The Commissioners Say That to Adopt a System of Permanent Improvement is a Waste of Public Money—House and Senate Proceedings—Capital Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Secretary Endicott has transmitted to congress a communication of November 27 last, from the Mississippi river commission, submitting remarks upon the conditions imposed by the river and harbor act of August 5, 1886, upon works of bank protection on that river, and calling attention to the deterioration of the works constructed at Plum Point and Lake Providence reaches for want of appropriations, and also to the fact that congress had failed to make provisions for the commissioners' expenses.

In the communication the commissioners say: "In our opinion the idea that the Mississippi river can be permanently improved by contractive works alone, is purely visionary, and not supported by any good authority. To adopt such a system is, in the opinion of the commission, to waste public money."

The commissioners say that the Lake Providence and Plum Point reaches, formerly the worst places on the river, have been rendered secure to navigation by the use of both bank protection and contracting works. Attention is called to the fact that the works at these points have seriously deteriorated because of the absence of appropriations, and asks that the appropriations recommended in the estimates be granted.

House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The senate bill amending the act providing for the sale of the Sac and Fox and Iowa Indian reservations in Kansas and Nebraska was passed. The amendment provides for the allotment of lands to orphans and minors.

The senate bill for the erection of a public building at Wilmington, N. C., was passed with an amendment limiting to cost to $150,000.

Mr. Dingley, of Maine, presented a memorial from several insurance companies of Boston, praying for the passage of a bill placing the coast-wise trade sailing vessels on the same basis as steam vessels engaged in that trade on the point of pilotage. Referred.

Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, tried without success to have private business set aside for the day so that the bill for the creation of a department of agriculture and labor might be considered.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the private calendar. Mr. McMillan, of Tennessee, in the chair.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—In the senate the annual report of the public printer and a protest from the Mississippi river commission against the failure to provide for their expenses was submitted to the chair. Numerous petitions for and against the interstate commerce bill were presented.

On motion of Mr. Allison a resolution was passed directing the secretary of the senate to pay the Arthur, Logan and Pike funeral expenses, approved by the senate.

The calendar was then taken up. The bills to settle claims of states for expenses incurred in the defense of the United States and of foreign steamship companies for tonnage tax illegally enacted were passed.

A bill appropriating $30,000 for the widow and daughter of Erskine Salling, the inventor of the Springfield breech-loading rifle musket, and formerly master armorer at the Springfield armory, by way of compensation for the government's use of the invention was discussed.

Engineers' Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The secretary of war sent to the speaker of the house a letter from the chief of engineers, together with a copy of the report of the board of engineers for fortifications and for river and harbor improvements upon the examination and surveys of the Missouri river from Portage to its mouth, giving the results of the investigations that have been in progress to determine the practicability of securing a sufficient low water navigable depth in that river by works of contraction in its bed; also a copy of a report from Capt. W. L. Marcors of engineers, in charge of the improvement of that river. In the opinion of the board the results of these investigations are decisive against the application of their mode of improvement to the Wisconsin river and in consequence it recommends that no more money be expended upon cities and wing dams in the bed of the river.

Morrison Will Assist Randall.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Chairman Morrison announces that he will assist Randall and his Democratic and Republican followers in their proposition to cut down the internal revenue. His announcement is gleefully received. It is believed to insure success, provided the internal revenue measure can be kept apart from any and all tariff propositions. Randall's scheme to enlarge the free list, agreed upon last night, will likely fail because of an inability to determine what should be put upon it. The Republicans objected because sugar is not included.

Tax Reduction.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald's Washington correspondent gives the following figures of tax reduction as agreed upon by the conference at Mr. Randall's house last night: Repeal of the tobacco tax $23,000,000; repeal of tax on fruit spirits, $1,000,000; free alcohol for use in arts, $13,000,000; repeal of all licenses, $700,000; free list, $5,000,000; total about $47,000,000; and a committee of three, with Mr. Randall at its head, was appointed to formulate a bill, and see if a greater reduction cannot be agreed on.

Bridge Across the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Representative Zach Taylor made an argument before the house committee on commerce in favor of the bill authorizing the construction of a railroad bridge across the Mississippi river at Memphis, while Mr. Laurens, attorney for the East Tennessee railroad argued against the bill.

DROVE THE GIRL CRAZY.

Dastardly Conduct of a Rich Young Man at Middletown, New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—A Middletown, N. Y., special says: Miss Ollie Brower, the nine-year-old daughter of Herman Brower, a glove manufacturer, was committed to the state insane asylum yesterday. Her insanity is said to have been caused by reports circulated about town by John W. Baird, defaming her character.

Miss Brower's father recently brought suit against Baird for $10,000 for slandering his daughter's good name, and Wednesday evening, as Miss Brower was leaving Bull's Opera house, where she had been attending a theatrical performance, Baird exclaimed in her presence and in the presence of a number of others: "There goes my $10,000 beauty." This seemed to affect the girl very much, and a short time after she had returned to her home she visited the room occupied by her parents and dashed a lighted lamp she had to the floor. As it fell she exclaimed: "Now, John Baird, I have got you; you must tell the truth."

Before her parents could seize her, she had cut an ugly gash in her throat with the blade of a pocket knife, and cut her wrist several places.

Baird is about twenty years of age, and his parents live at Cedar Vale, Kan. He has made his home in this village ever since he was very young, with his uncle, who was a wealthy man. This uncle died several months ago, leaving Baird his sole heir. He has always been of a wild disposition, and since he came into possession of his money he has lived freely. Mr. Brower had him arrested yesterday afternoon for writing anonymous letters to his daughter, letters which he discovered after the girl's confinement in the asylum. He was released on bail on Monday.

A VESSEL FOUNDERED.

The American Ship Harvey Mills Goes Down in the Pacific Ocean.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A dispatch from San Pedro announces that First Mate Cushman, Alexander Volgeur and Jacob Brown, seamen of the crew of the American ship Harvey Mills from Seattle, long overdue at San Francisco, were landed at San Pedro yesterday, by the ship Majestic. They report that the vessel left Seattle on December 12 under the command of Capt. Crawford, with a cargo of coal for San Francisco. On December 14, when about sixty miles southwest of Cape Flattery, a heavy gale was encountered and the vessel foundered.

It is not stated how many persons were on board the ship at the time of the disaster, but it is believed all were lost, except the three seamen which the Majestic picked up at sea in an open boat. The Harvey Mills was valued at $64,000; partly insured. She was owned by Capt. Warren Mills, Capt. Crawford and a number of eastern people. The cargo, valued at $12,000, was fully insured.

New York Custom House Work.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Referring to the dispatch from Chicago, stating that western merchants were dissatisfied with the long delay at the custom house in refunding the duties illegally collected on cartoons and other coverings, Naval Officer Baird said that the delay has been caused at first by the lack of sufficient clerical help to re-liquidate the invoices. Finally the secretary gave the collector and the naval officers each ten additional clerks for the purpose of re-liquidating the invoices in their cases. The new men had to learn their duties, and this caused more delay. They are now, however, in good working trim, and about $25,000 has been paid back to the importers. The total claims in this city amount to about $1,000,000, of which $1,200,000 is involved in litigation.

Promiscuous Fighting.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—While Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company was being transferred from one train to another yesterday, a mastiff owned by Robert Gray, of this place, attacked one of the trained bloodhounds used in the play. The bloodhound was muzzled and had the worst of the fight until a showman unmuzzled another bloodhound, which fiercely attacked the mastiff. Seeing that the mastiff would be killed, Gray ran forward to save it, but was interfered with by two negro jubilee singers who attacked him. Gray drew a revolver and fired twice, but did not hurt anybody. Some one in the crowd, however, shot one of the bloodhounds. The negroes were arrested. The mastiff, or what is left of him, is still alive.

Dead For Three Days.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 8.—Early in December Ellen, the invalid wife of W. O. Jones, of Jones & Hutchins, was pronounced to be dead. Having a horror of being buried alive she had requested that the funeral should be delayed until the evidence of death were unmistakable. Three days later she was heard to groan. Stimulents were applied, and in four hours she could open her eyes and in eight hours more conversed. Since then she has continued to improve, although she is weak and emaciated, having taken little or no nourishment for thirteen days. She has made known to her friends what she experienced while in the trance.

Does Not Miss an Issue.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—The Evening Telegraph, whose establishment was burned out last night, will be issued for the next few days from the Inquirer building, the use of which has been kindly tendered by the proprietor. The loss by the fire in the Telegraph building is fully covered by insurance. The engine and press and the valuable collection of biographical and historical material were saved.

Will Kick Themselves When They Hear It.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—Burglars effected an entrance into the grocery store of Lorenz Padberg & Bro., 3901 South Broadway, Wednesday night, and succeeded in opening the safe and making their escape unobserved with $700 in cash and some notes and checks. The thieves in their eagerness to escape hurriedly without detection, overlooked a package of $1,000 in currency.

Freight Rates From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—It is understood that the trunk line pool has demanded 28 per cent of the net through freight rates from the Pacific to the Atlantic, and insists that they shall receive not less than 25 cents per 100 pounds from Chicago to New York instead of 23 per cent, as at present, which is not a paying rate on account of the transcontinental rate war.

UNEMPLOYED WORKMEN.

A STARTLING AND UNEXPECTED DEMONSTRATION IN LONDON.

The English Government Called On By a Committee of Unemployed Workmen With the Demand, "Give Us Work or Give Us Bread"—Cardinal Jacobini Dying.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The inhabitants of the West End were startled to-day by the unexpected demonstration of the unemployed of London. Large crowds of the unemployed who had congregated at different points of the city so as not to attract the attention of the police, suddenly made their appearance in the vicinity of the offices of the local government board, each contingent having been timed so all would arrive at the point of rendezvous at the same hour.

The plan was well carried out, for none of the government or police officials had received any notice of the demonstration, and were only made aware of the fact by the sudden appearance in the streets of an immense array of unemployed workmen, crying: "Give us work, or give us bread."

A committee of the unemployed waited on the Right Honorable Charles J. Ritchie, president of the local government board, and detailed their grievances to that official, requesting that the government to adopt measures for the employment of workmen on public works. Mr. Ritchie received the deputation kindly but said he was unable to promise them anything. He would however place their grievances before the cabinet at its next meeting.

The crowd then repaired to Trafalgar square where an indignation meeting was held and resolutions adopted protesting against the apathy of the government. Many shopkeepers in and around Trafalgar square hastily put up their shutters and closed their doors, under the belief that another Socialist demonstration was about to take place. The crowd, however, was orderly and after the adoption of the resolutions quietly dispersed.

Killed By a Hippopotamus.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—An exciting incident occurred at the Paris zoological gardens to-day, resulting in the death of one of the keepers. The hippopotamus was observed to be acting in an unusual manner, and a keeper entered the cage to discover the cause of the beast's evident uneasiness. He had been in the cage only a moment or two, when the brute appeared suddenly to go mad. The keeper tried to escape, but before he could reach the door of the cage the animal attacked him furiously. Other assistants rushed to the rescue, and endeavored to beat back the infuriated brute. Their efforts were finally successful, but when they drew their comrade from the cage life was extinct.

Military Education.

ROME, Jan. 8.—Prince Louis Napoleon, son of Prince Jerome Napoleon (Bonaparte), will, it is announced, finish his military education in the army. The fact that the eldest son of the Comte De Paris is receiving his military education at the military college of Sandhurst has aroused much discontent among the royalists in France, where Anglophobia is just now prevalent. It is with a view of taking advantage of his rivals mistake that Prince Napoleon has decided that his son Louis, who a few weeks ago was in the United States, should receive his military education in the Italian army.

Appointed on the New Cabinet.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Edward Stanhope, now cabinet secretary, has been appointed secretary for war in the reconstructed cabinet, vice Mr. W. H. Smith, who will lead the Conservatives in the house of commons. Lord Idlesleigh has not yet decided to accept the suggestion that he retire from the foreign office in favor of Lord Salisbury. Should Lord Idlesleigh agree to this proposition he will in all probability replace Mr. Stanhope in the cabinet office.

Escape of Sergeants.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—Nine sergeants who were in prison here undergoing punishment for complicity in the military revolt of last September have escaped and are now at large. The gatekeepers of the military prison, without being noticed, decamped with the fugitive sergeants. No trace of the men has been found. The escape has caused a sensation, giving evidence of intrigues by the revolution party.

Russian Wheat.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—M. Lockroy, minister of commerce, announces that wheat of excellent quality and superior weight, has been exported for the first time by Russia from the Caucasus. Large cargoes of this wheat, M. Lockroy says, have been sent to Odessa across the Black sea from the ports of Poti and Batoum, destined for the Adriatic and the English channel.

French Fostering Commerce.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—In consequence of the repeatedly expressed discontent of French merchants, the government has ordered its agents in Egypt to foster French commerce as much as possible, and endeavor to decrease to a minimum the difficulties in the way of Frenchmen competing successfully for the public contracts.

Snow and Rain Storms.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Fearful snow storms are reported at Florence, Perugia, Venice, Genoa and in the whole of Piedmont, interrupting railroad and telegraphic communication. An incessant downfall of rain at Rome threatens to cause an overflow of the Tiber.

No Russo-German Alliance.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs that paper that he has learned from undoubted authority that there is no truth in the recent published statement to the effect that Germany and Russia had formed an alliance.

Cardinal Jacobini Dying.

ROME, Jan. 8.—Cardinal Jacobini is dying. He has been attacked with alarming symptoms of gout.

Foreign Notes.

The Dublin Nation, in an article commenting upon the brutality of the sentences imposed upon the Woodford prisoners, says: "Justice is done in Ireland only in defiance of the laws. Injustice is embodied in the Irish statute book, heartlessness is enthroned upon the bench, and justice, benevolence and charity languish in prison."

Thomas Power O'Connor, M. P., presided at an immense Home Rule demonstration held in Bradford. Upon taking the chair he delivered an eloquent speech, in which he advocated the fairness of the National League's "Plan of Campaign," and advised the appointment by the government of a judge who should act as a medium between landlord and tenant.

The census of France for 1886 shows a total population of 38,218,963, against 37,472,048 in 1881. The population of Paris has increased only 75,000, against 280,000 recorded in 1881.

Germany has arranged for the sale to the Turkish government of 400,000 Mauser rifles, which have been superseded in the German army by repeating rifles.

THEIR BRIDAL TRIP.

Secretary Lamar and Bride Royally Entertained in Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 8.—Secretary Lamar and bride reached Atlanta on the 9:25 Macon train, where he was met by Governor and Mrs. Gordon. The secretary was evidently not particularly pleased to see the large number of people who had gathered to meet him, and he recognized their presence neither by smile nor bow. Mrs. Lamar was more gracious, however, and seemed to be full of enthusiasm. The party at once drove to the executive mansion, where, notwithstanding the announcement that there would be no demonstration, there was a number of the governor's intimate friends on hand. At 11 o'clock the happy couple was left alone, but in the morning the calls were resumed, and during the whole day Mrs. Lamar was the recipient of attentions from the ladies of Atlanta.

Invitations were issued for a dinner to the newly wedded pair for 6 o'clock in the evening, and a select but distinguished party was present. Governor Gordon sat at one end of the table with Mrs. Lamar to his right, while Secretary Lamar held the seat of honor, at the other end by Mrs. Gordon. There were present, among others, Henry W. Grady and Mrs. Grady, and Col. Patrick Calhoun and Mrs. Calhoun. Secretary Lamar warmly congratulated Mr. Grady on his New England dinner-speech and Mr. Calhoun upon his recent successful Richmond and Danville and Central railroad deal. During a conversation about the New South, a pleasant reference was made to the fact that it was Secretary Lamar who, in his place in the senate, broke the ice for the new order of things, by his famous eulogy on the late Senator Sumner. The evening is frosty and cold, so that the scene in the parlors of the governor's mansion, as viewed from the street, with heaping coal fires and brilliant chandeliers, is one of a cheerful nature. Col. R. E. Park, of Macon, son-in-law of Mrs. Lamar, was in the city, but was not ascertained whether he called at the mansion or not.

A Woman Arrested for Voting.

ELMIRA, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Lucy Sweet Barber, of Alfred, Allegany county, who gained so much notoriety by voting at the November election, has been arrested by the United States marshal and held for examination on Monday next. Mrs. Barber voted the full ticket for congressman and other candidates.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Last night Christian Hurst, a German, shot his wife with a revolver and afterwards forced a shot into his own forehead. Neither of the wounds are fatal. Jealousy was the cause of the deed.

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 8, 1887.

"If this is the end, I'm ready" were Logan's last words.

The Knights of Labor have inaugurated a big boycott against the stockholders of the Portsmouth Wagon Company.

The great editors who have attempted to knock the President out in one round have made a miserable failure of it. Next time they will use something more effective than a wind-bag.—Louisville Commercial.

The Republican State Convention has been called to meet 11th of next May—one week after the Democratic convention. They evidently want their opponents to show their hand first. The Democrats can do it, and win the game.

NEWPORT has a citizen who believes in paying taxes on all he owns. Colonel R. W. Nelson is the party. He went before the Board of Supervisors the other day and asked that his assessment be increased. The country at large wouldn't lose anything, if there were a few more such citizens of Colonel Nelson's stamp.

A CHICAGO girl wants to eat sixty quails in thirty consecutive days on a wager of $3,000, and "not make any fuss about it, either." Chicago girls are almost as venturesome as Brother Davis. Pitch out a poor, little traveling "shoe store" in front of him and he sails in to it at once. The Chicago girls are almost as courageous. When it comes to attacking quail, or pie—on a wager of $3,000—they are right there every time.

Important to Liquor Dealers.
County Clerk W. W. Ball has called our attention to a few provisions of the new Revenue law which the saloon-keepers and liquor dealers of this city seem to have overlooked. Article 5, Sec. 1 of the act says:

All licenses mentioned in this article, except licenses to sell by retail spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors, shall be granted by the County Clerk; and licenses to sell by retail spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, shall be granted by the County Court; but the County Court shall not grant a license to sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors until ten days' notice shall be given, by posting a written or printed notice at the door of the court house, and at least four public places in the neighborhood where the liquor is to be sold, and if the majority of the citizens in the neighborhood shall protest against the application it shall be refused. The County Court in each instance shall determine what constitutes the neighborhood.

The act further on says that "all persons selling liquors in packages of less than five gallons shall be considered retail dealers," and are, of course, compelled to pay the same tax as saloon-keepers. We understand that a number of the saloon-keepers haven't renewed their license, and, as Circuit Court will convene next Tuesday, it looks like they will be compelled to quit business, temporarily at least, or pay the penalties for violation of the law.

The county authorities are satisfied that some of the druggists and whisky men are violating the law—whether knowingly or not, they do not say—by selling packages of less than five gallons without retail license.

Another section of the law says: "A license granted by a city or town having authority to grant the same shall be void, and no protection to any person for any purpose, unless the State license be obtained and the State tax be paid before the grant thereof."

Facts For Farmers.

Plum shoots grafted upon wild plum stocks do well.

It is said that excellent soap can be made of concentrated potash, whale oil and milk.

The editor of the Orange County Farmer trains his tomatoes to poles, and they grow six feet high.

Cows that have no bedding are often injured in the knees by getting up or down, especially if the floors be wet and slippery.

Lay in your stock of seeds for next spring now. Every preparation should be made before the busy season opens in the spring.

Leaves gathered into heaps and allowed to lay and decay for two or three years make an excellent fertilizer for plants.

This is an excellent season for repairing the fences and buildings. If deferred, the spring with its hurry will allow no time for such work.

Every farmer must know what kind of swine breed well and are wanted in the markets. That is the kind which can be bred with profit.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Peck & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

INDIANA LEGISLATURE.

The Democrats Capture the House and Hear the Governor's Message.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The two houses of the legislature met and organized. The interest centered in the senate, at which there was a large crowd. Green Smith appeared and took the chair, with Auditor of State Rice acting as clerk. The Republicans endeavored to protest, but they were not permitted to be heard, and, without the Republicans voting at all, but being counted as present, the Democratic caucus nominees were elected, and a set of prepared rules adopted that gave the majority all power. In the house the Republican nominees were elected—Hon. W. G. Sayre, speaker—but beyond the formal organization no business was transacted.

The Second Day.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 8.—The Democratic majority in the house to-day rescinded a resolution to meet the house in joint session and hear the governor's message. The governor thereupon sent to each house a separate copy, and the senate promptly had it read. The house declined, temporarily, to entertain it until the senate's purpose could be discovered. The governor's message, as read in the senate, recommends a reduction of the interest on the $4,000,000 school fund from 5 to 3 per cent.; favors the establishment of an intermediate penitentiary for the first offenders; sets forth the necessity for the loan of a million dollars to cover the deficit in state expenses, and favors amending the mining law so as to afford better protection to miners.

Holman Announces His Candidacy.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 8.—Congressman W. S. Holman reached the city last night, and made formal announcement of his intention to enter the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination. It is understood that neither party will caucus for senator until the lieutenant-governorship question has been definitely settled. The caucuses will probably not be held before Tuesday night.

The "Sandwich Man" in Paris.

Who introduced him? At this distance I can scarcely remember, but I fancy it was the owners of a continental paper started on American "lines" for Anglo-American readers. Then was the time to have resisted the innovation. One indignation meeting, one protest, one prosecution might have checked the advertising mania indefinitely. But the opportunity passed, the sandwich board became a familiar sight in the streets, and ere long from the pariah had become the tyrant of the pavement. The theatrical managers taking the hint to advertise their respective shows by means of illuminated carts and sign boards, huge carts, thirty feet long, with shifting and multicolored posters took the field. Cheap watchmakers, following quickly in the wake of the managers, hired small armies of the half starved "loafers" to air their printed self laudations. The inventor of a patent soap devised an Indian car and engaged four genuine niggers to promenade about the boulevards in it in his honor. An electric accumulator company sent forth strange carriages at night, with flashing lamps and glistening glass walls, the like of which had never been seen on the boulevard. Presumingly upon the impunity with which all these innovations were allowed to confuse us, our bootmakers and hatters did not hesitate to go a step further in puffery, and in a short time we found the sidewalks monopolized by men masquerading as grenadiers and Turks and monkeys, bearing aloft great signboards proclaiming the superiority of their wares over those of their less self-asserting competitors. "It all gives color to our streets!" exclaimed a rosy spectacled chrouqueter the other day, discussing the nuisance. So it does. But it makes walking plaguesome and unpleasant. No longer can we saunter on and on, stopping lazily now to scan the posters on the colonnades, and now to watch the pretty face of some little shop nymph. At every corner we are liable to be tripped up or ignominiously hustled by rows of perambulating "puffers." The case, the indolence of our former flaneurs has been rudely and irreparably disturbed. A new and restless spirit has been infused into our lives. In short, we have been "Americanized."—Paris Cor. New Orleans Times Democrat.

The Haughty Wife.

In one of the cities that lie over against Boston there lives a family whose masculine head is a man who has won considerable wealth, from humble beginnings not unlike those of Commodore Vanderbilt, with the difference that while he, like Vanderbilt, began as a boatman, he was expanded into the banking business instead of into the railroad business. Ever since he became a banker his excellent wife has been smitten with the great importance of her husband's new occupation, and has advertised it on every possible occasion. The horse car conductors on the line which runs into her city all know her and smile when she enters the car and grandly offers her command:

"Conductor, let me off at my husband's bank."

One day lately a trampish looking old fellow with a red nose got on the car just as the banker's wife delivered her usual order to the conductor. The old man watched her performance curiously, and then arose, pulled himself together and called out with a magnificent air that was inimitable:

"Conductor, let me off at my old woman's pauper stand!"

A car went through the air, and "my husband's bank" has been alluded to more than ever since that time.—Boston Record.

Panic Caused By False Fire Alarm.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Jan. 8.—The Orange Lodge hall at Bona Vista was crowded Wednesday night with an audience listening to addresses by Salvation Army preachers, when some one cried fire. There was a rush for the door, and in many persons were crushed. Several elderly persons are said to be fatally injured, and a number of others had limbs broken and were otherwise hurt.

Beecher to Get Some Other Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A friend of Rev. H. W. Beecher stated last night that the appointment of Mr. Beecher's son, Herbert, to some position in the revenue service has been practically determined upon. It is probable that the young man will be assigned to duty at some point on the Pacific slope. His nomination for collector at Fort Townsend was rejected by the senate some time ago.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 8.—The condition of Prof. E. E. Smith, who during a fit of temporary aberration tried to shoot Dr. Beasley, was yesterday morning thought to be improved, but in the afternoon the family left on the Monon train, it is supposed for Chicago. It is thought he is being taken to a sanitarium there for treatment. He does not remember the occurrence of Wednesday.

It's too bad that the editors of the Republican should absorb all the gas in the vicinity of their establishment. There wasn't enough at the post office last night to light up the room. We advise the "O. G." to attend to the matter at once, else there will be some vigorous "kicking."

Forty years' experience in every climate on earth has proved Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to be the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all lung diseases. Neglected colds often become incurable ailments. Deal with them in time, and prevent their becoming deep-seated in the system.

CAPTAIN JOHN MARTIN, the genial conductor on the K. C., has been off duty for a week or two. During his absence his place has been filled by Sherman Otto, of Maysville. Mr. Otto is an exceedingly clever fellow and bids fair to make one of the most popular conductors on the road.—Winchester Democrat.

THE Enterprise Stove Company, of California, O., have decided to remove their factory to a point more convenient both for shipping goods and receiving raw material. Have they heard of Maysville? Our city may not be the best place in the world, but, then, we have one of the finest water works to be found anywhere, gas at 75 cents a thousand, good shipping facilities, and will have better. We are satisfied this is just the place the Enterprise Stove Company is looking for. They should lose no time in coming to the front.

Rev. J. H. Herron, of Augusta, will come into the meeting Monday night to assist the pastor, Rev. T. F. Garrett.

The Union services of the Week of Prayer have been exceedingly interesting on each night. Large congregations have given undivided attention to each subject under discussion. To-night at the M. E. Church, South, there will be prayer "For the Out-pouring of the Holy Spirit upon the Nations; For the better Observance of the Lord's Day; For the Abolition of the Liquor Traffic, and the Removal of the Curse of Intemperance." It was remarked last night by one of the ministers that the subject of temperance was the most important of any yet mentioned. This will be discussed fully to-night. Let all come and hear it.

The Gilbert Comedy Company will begin their engagement Monday with the great Madison Square Theatre success, "Young Mrs. Winthrop." Miss Gilbert will appear as "Constance," Mrs. Winthrop, as played by her two hundred nights with the above named company in all the principal cities of the United States and Canada. It will be reproduced here as originally presented at the Madison Square Theatre, New York.

Railway Notes.

The Columbus and Maysville Railroad, which was ordered sold some time ago, has been appraised at $36,000. The date of the sale is to be fixed hereafter.

The Cincinnati and Eastern Railroad has been sold to the Ohio and Northwestern Company for $1,000,000. The road will be made a standard gauge, and extended from Portsmouth to Gallipolis. The proposed line down the Ohio side of the river from Portsmouth to Cincinnati is not likely to be built now by the Ohio and Northwestern.

Lexington is diligently working to secure the Kentucky Union.

The telegraph line along the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad has been completed to Covington, with the exception of a few gaps. The employees who are engaged in closing up these gaps met with armed resistance in Greenup County the other day, and were driven off a farm at the muzzle of a double-barrel shot-gun. The "kickers" were brought to time with a peace warrant, and the matter has, in all likelihood, been settled ere this.

Removal.

Dr. G. M. Williams has removed his dental office to building on Third street, adjoining Dr. Shackelford's office.

Mr. "Know-all" to Mr. Davis.

Editor Bulletin: Those who live in glass houses should be the last persons in the world to commence throwing stones.

The editor of the Republican, Mr. Davis, has seen fit to dub me with the title of "Mr. Know-all." This is all right; I haven't any objections. But the honor is conferred of his own free will, and entirely without any solicitation on my part. I make no pretensions to know all, but perhaps I do know a little more than Mr. Davis thinks I do.

He alleges my mismanagement as his principal excuse for the first article reflecting upon me. Very well. When it comes to this I can show a better record (I say it not boasting) than Mr. Davis can, if all reports are true. If I am correctly informed, Mr. Davis, in his many newspaper enterprises of the past, has made miserable failures. The people of Maysville—at least some of them—to not need to be reminded of this fact. Granting that my last concert was not attended by as many persons as I expected, and that it was a failure in this respect, what has Mr. Davis to do about the matter? I have settled in full for all expenses incurred, and hold receipts. The concert may have been a failure in point of attendance, but I didn't pay my creditors off at a cent less than one hundred cents on the dollar, all the same. My creditors are not the losers. Can Mr. Davis show as good a record? Well, hardly. I regret exceedingly to call up unpleasant memories, but will be pardoned, I hope, for throwing a few stones at that glass house of the man who holds the throttle of the Republican down, especially as he "flung de fast stone."

However, I do not wish to take up too much of your space. My acquaintance with newspaper men may be very limited, and it may not, but I think I know enough of the "tooter" who used to manage the Republican—Mr. Davis—to know that he would never have said anything about "mismanagement" had he got what little printing I had done. I flatter myself that the people of Maysville see through the gauzy curtain behind which he tries to crawl.

Again, I admit there's "no string tied to me," and all that, but just for the present, I shall, nevertheless, remain here in Maysville, notwithstanding the seeming anxiety of Mr. Davis to "blow" me out of town. His information that Maysville is not the only place in the world is entirely gratuitous and unnecessary, as the following from the New York Telegram of last fall will attest:

Visitors at Brighton will regret to learn that Mr. Knoll, the popular cornet virtuoso, has accepted an engagement at Cincinnati. It is common talk that Mr. Knoll has made the greatest hit since Levy's time. This gentleman's genial disposition has made him a favorite with all persons with whom he came in contact, this being the precedent established by him in the early part of his musical career. Messrs. Cunningham & McGrath, in speaking of the matter, said they regretted parting with Mr. Knoll, as he had been a powerful magnet and gave more than satisfaction. Mr. Knoll starts for the west in a few days. All hope to see and hear him at the Beach next season.

Business engagements may take me elsewhere in the near future, but when I do leave Maysville I will go as I came—a gentleman. I wish I could say the same for Mr. Davis. The sooner the opera house managers dispense with his very valuable services, I will stake my life they will be more successful.

Spectemur agendo. That doesn't mean, never tackle a "bumptious virtuoso," but, "let us be judged by our actions."

Regretting that I have taken up so much space, I am, respectfully,
A. H. KNOLL,
Manager First Regiment Band.

MURPHYSVILLE.

Skates are in demand.

Sleighs are used by church-goers.

Some much need repairs were recently made on the M. E. Church, by Mr. Henry Davis, who kindly donated his labor.

The sick list contains the names of Miss Lydia Tomlin and Mrs. William Forman, both convalescent.

By far the best congregation yet was present last night at the revival meeting in the M. E. Church. Rev. T. F. Garrett preached from Job 22:15-17. Nine persons asked prayers for themselves and friends, and a score of persons bowed at the altar in the after meeting.

OBITUARY.

Died, at the home of his mother, Mrs. Martha Beckett, in this city, on January 3rd, at 2 o'clock, Pierce G. Beckett, in the seventeenth year of his age. Thus has death for the fourth time entered this dear family and borne away a loved member of the home. The circle has lessened upon earth, but now enlarged in heaven. It has indeed been the angel whose summons came to them—a heavenly summons which found a sweet submission to a Father's will.

Call not back the dear departed. Anchored safe where storms are o'er. On the border land we left him, Soon to meet to part no more.

Far beyond this world of change, Far beyond this world of care, We shall find our missing loved one, In our Father's mansion fair.

THE NEW LABOR ORGAN.

HENRY GEORGE BEGINS THE PUBLICATION OF HIS PAPER.

"No Quarter Will Be Given to Abuses and None Taken From 'their Champions.'" Doings in General I. The World of Labor in Other Places—Miares Strike.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Henry George, in his salutatory in to-day's Standard, the new Labor organ of which he is the editor and proprietor, and which appears to-day, says: "I begin the publication of this paper in response to many urgent requests and because I believe there is a field for a journal that shall serve as a focus for news and opinions relating to the great movement now beginning for the emancipation of labor by the restriction of natural rights. The generation that abolished chattel slavery is passing away, and the political distinctions that grew out of that contest are becoming meaningless. The work now before us is the abolition of industrial slavery."

After reiterating his belief that what God created for the use of all should be utilized for the benefit of all, Mr. George goes on to say that he will always raise his voice against any and all laws or customs calculated to curtail the liberty or rights of men. "Confident in the strength of truth," he continues, "I shall give no quarter to abuses and none from their champions."

In conclusion Mr. George says: "I shall endeavor to conduct this paper by the same rules on which a just man would regulate his conduct. I shall not wittingly give currency to an untruth, and if I inadvertently do so, will endeavor to repair the wrong."

A Great Boycott.

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 8.—The boycott of the Knights of Labor on George Davis, Hon. James W. Newman, Michael Stanton and a few newspapers as stockholders in the Portsmouth Wagon Stock company is the topic of conversation in all circles here. The prominence of the parties boycotted seems to make it more weighty. For the past six months the employers and employees have not been as brotherly as should be. A few weeks ago the knights left the works, but their places were quickly filled by non-unionists.

Even as far back as September when the business men and manufacturers were represented in the parade of the reunion of the Army of West Virginia, the knights did not turn out, owing to the display of the Wagon Stock company in the procession. Then again it was claimed by some that the above company were in receipt of goods made by the convict labor at Columbus. On January 4 the works were started in full but not employing the knights, hence the boycott. Now a few words about the ones boycotted.

George C. Davis, of the firm of Davis & Co., is conceded the richest man in the city. He is known to have defied the whisky pool which met at the Grand hotel a few weeks ago, and pays one-third of the entire revenue tax for this (the Eleventh) district. He is a Republican.

Hon. James W. Newman, editor of the Times (Democratic), is the United States revenue collector here, ex-secretary of state, and was defeated for re-election; is a director of the wagon company.

Hon. Mike Stanton, the senior of the firm of Stanton & Balmert, wholesale liquor house, is the most influential Democrat in this neck of the woods.

This boycott promises to be a "sticker," and the result is eagerly looked for.

Coal Strike Unchanged.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The strike among the Weehawken coal men still continues. Twenty-one men were taken over in a tug boat this morning to the Weehawken, Delaware & Hudson Coal company's yards and were put to work in the places of the striking coal handlers. Trouble is anticipated. A large force of police are stationed at the entrances to the yards. As the Erie docks work is entirely suspended. At Elizabethport the strike still continues and the situation remains unchanged.

A Coal Famine Threatened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Should the strike among the coalheavers of New Jersey last a week longer there is a strong probability that the city will suffer from a coal famine. Such at least is the opinion of several retail dealers. They say that stocks on hand are already at a low ebb, and as the supply has practically ceased for the time being, they look for a still greater scarcity within a few days.

Labor Convention in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Labor convention adjourned this morning at 1 o'clock to meet again at Clarendon hall on Thursday next. The only business other than that already reported was the appointment of committees on resolution and permanent organization.

No Tie-Up in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 8.—The president of the Brooklyn City and Broadway Street railroad, have excepted the employees time table and all danger of another tie-up is over.

Senatorial Race in New Jersey.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 8.—The greatest excitement over a contest for United States senatorship election known for years now prevails in this state. Until within a few days it was thought that Leon Abbott would be the choice of the Democratic caucus without a doubt, but recent events point to a different result. Democrats say openly that they will not support him for the nomination. On the best of authority it is stated that State Senator Chatter will not vote for him. The two labor candidates, Donahue and Carroll, will not enter the caucus, but will vote for Erastus Potter, the labor champion, for senator. Abbott is doing everything to succeed, but it is thought among those placed in a position to know that Abbott's chances are slim. Senator Sewell is not among the impossibilities. The speaker-ship undoubtedly will go to Throckmorton.

The Senator From Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 8.—In the Republican joint caucus for United States senator, just before taking the first ballot, a letter from Senator McMillan was read announcing his withdrawal from the contest. On the first ballot ex-Governor Cushman K. Davis received 93 votes, and Gordon E. Cole 1. The nomination was made unanimous. This secures the election of Davis on the 13th inst.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—The laity of Bishop Stevens' Episcopal diocese have presented the bishop with $7,000 as a token of their esteem, and to mark the completion of the twenty-fifth year of his prelacy.

"I want something to cure my cough. I have tried our doctor, and almost every proprietary medicine I ever heard of, but nothing seems to do me any good," a lady said to the clerk in a large drug-store.

"Gooch's Mexican Syrup gives the most general satisfaction of any thing we have ever sold, and is pronounced by some of our most prominent people to be the best remedy for coughs and lung troubles ever put upon the market. We sell more of it than all other cough remedies put together. You see our customers risk nothing in buying, as the proprietors authorize all druggists to guarantee it; so if this does not give you satisfaction, we will refund the money. It has made some remarkable cures," he replied.

A WORD TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Consumptives, because all other things fail, believe not that Gooch's Mexican Syrup will. CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. Tuberculous matter is nothing more than nourishment imperfectly organized. Now, if we can procure the organization of this food material so that through the process of electric affinity it may take its place in the system, we can cure the disease. This is just what Gooch's Mexican Syrup does: It at once stops the progress of the disease by preventing the further supply of tuberculous matter, for while the system is under its influence all nourishment is organized and assimilated. It controls Coughs, Night-Sweats, and all other symptoms of consumption. GOOCH'S MEXICAN SYRUP HAS CURED THOUSANDS AND IT WILL CURE YOU. This remedy is pleasant to the taste, and may be given to children with perfect safety. It affords immediate relief. Clergymen, lawyers and other public speakers will be greatly benefited by using this remedy to clear and strengthen the voice. This medicine is prepared and every bottle warranted by CINCINNATI DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., 54 Main Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale by all druggists. 50 cts. per bottle. If your medicine dealer hasn't it and won't get it for you, send us 50 cents and we will send a bottle, expressage prepaid to any part of the U. S.
